Understanding your account statement

As a valued client of a financial services company that uses clearing, execution and custodial services provided by RBC Clearing & Custody, you deserve comprehensive, timely account information—and that's just what you'll get with your account statement. This fact sheet can help you get the maximum benefit from your statement. You'll find descriptions of the various items that appear in the statement plus brief explanations of how to interpret what you see.

A wealth of information in an easy-to-manage form

As you chart your progress toward your long-term financial goals, you may want to pay special attention to the following areas:

Summary of accounts

In this section you'll get a "snapshot" of your accounts serviced by RBC Clearing & Custody (C&C). The summary is provided if you have multiple accounts serviced by RBC C&C and elect to have your statements delivered in one envelope. You can also designate "nicknames" for your accounts to help you identify at a glance the beneficial owner or any other detail about the account that is important to you.

The Summary of Accounts can be useful in helping you determine the current value of your investments. Always talk with your financial professional before making changes based solely on what you see in this summary. Investments fluctuate on a daily, monthly and yearly basis, so remember to take a long-term perspective on how your investments are meeting your individual needs.

Asset allocation

This section illustrates how your investment dollars are diversified over a range of asset classes: U.S. equities, international equities, taxable fixed income, tax-exempt fixed income, etc.

Your asset allocation mix should reflect your individual tolerance for risk, your investment preferences and your time horizon (how many years you plan on investing). As your individual circumstances change over the years, you'll want to work with your financial professional to adjust your asset allocation mix accordingly.

Gain/loss information

This section illustrates how your investment dollars are diversified over a range of asset classes: U.S. equities, international equities, taxable fixed income, tax-exempt fixed income, etc.

Investment objective

This section shows the investment objective you have provided to your financial professional. While you may have a range of investment goals, remember that your "Investment Objective" reflects your overall risk tolerance—the risk you are willing to assume when seeking returns on your investments. For more information about our Investment Objective continuum, please see "About Your Investment Objective" on page two of your statement.

Please contact your financial professional with any questions you may have about your account statement. Contact information is provided on the first page of your statement.

Summary of accounts

If you have several accounts serviced by RBC Clearing & Custody, and you've chosen to have all the statements delivered together, then you'll automatically receive an Account Summary Statement, which gives you a basic overview of all your accounts, as a supplement to your account statements. Detailed statements for your individual accounts are also provided.

- 1 Your message board In this area, you'll find important information or announcements from the firm.
- 2 Total value of accounts This appears when accrued bond interest, a held away annuity or a held away alternative investment are present in one or more of the accounts listed on the account summary statement.
- 3 Total portfolio value This line shows the total value of all your accounts listed on the summary statement. Please note that an asterisk in the "Account Number" column indicates that additional details on that particular account are not available here.

Holdings, activities and gain/loss

This page provides you with an overview of your account holdings, activity and gain/loss information.

- 1 Asset allocation summary This pie chart and the accompanying table show how your money is allocated among different types of asset classes, such as cash and money markets, U.S. equities, international equities, taxable fixed income and tax-exempt fixed income. "Other Assets" include futures, commodities and other vehicles that do not fit into the main investment categories.
- 2 Unrealized gain/loss Mutual funds are listed with the asset class in which they are primarily invested. For example, the value of a fund that invests primarily in U.S. equities would be included in U.S. equities.
- 3 Investment objective/risk tolerance The investment objective you and your financial professional have set for your account is listed here. If your objective is not listed or your needs have changed, please discuss this with your financial professional.
- 4 Gain/loss summary This summary shows realized and unrealized gains and losses for selected securities in your account, both year-to-date and for the current statement period.
- 5 Activity summary This section shows high-level information about the activity in your account for the current statement period.

Asset detail

The Asset Detail section lists all securities held in your account. Stocks and mutual funds are listed alphabetically within their asset class—U.S. equities, international equities, etc. Bonds are listed in alphabetical or maturity date order.

1 Net cost — This column lists the total cost of the asset. If you've made several purchases of the same security—as you would when buying shares at different times—then this amount would include the total cost of all purchases.

Price per Share x Number of Shares + Any Commissions or Fees

Net Cost

Unrealized gain/loss — Your unrealized gain/loss is listed for certain securities in your account. The unrealized gain/loss figure does not include possible commissions when you sell your security or income earned while you own it. For example, you may hold a bond until it matures at face value; however, until it matures, in the Unrealized Gain/Loss column your bond will show a "realtime" unrealized gain or loss based on current market value.

You can choose to see the unrealized gain or loss information displayed as consolidated tax lots or broken into individual tax lots If you see "N/A" in the Net Cost or Unrealized Gain/Loss column, it may mean that we do not have the original cost information for a security or do not provide unrealized gain/loss information for that security. If you have this information, please contact your financial professional to update it.

income — If this column is left blank, the estimated annual income information is not available for that security.

1 Net proceeds/accrued interest — In this column, you'll find the net proceeds of each of your sell transactions since your last statement. You'll also see the interest you've accrued from those fixed income investments that issue payments that you've sold.

- 2 Realized gain/loss Once you've completed a transaction, your realized gain or loss will appear in this column.
- 3 Comments Notations in this column are usually specific to the activity type. For example, in the Other Activity section, the comment could note stock distributions (splits) and reorganizations.
- 4 Individual account information

— Your Activity Detail report may contain special information that's relevant to you, such as checks issued from your account (as shown above). This section could also contain itemized open orders, IRA information, checks written from your Cash Management Account, Visa Platinum® debit card transactions or ACH summary information.

As you go through your account statement—using this fact sheet to help understand key sections—keep these points in mind:

- You'll receive statements every quarter as long as your account contains a cash or security balance. Statements are delivered monthly when you have transactions during that month, with the exception of money market dividends.
   If you choose, you can have a statement produced monthly regardless of account activity.
- You can obtain three additional copies of your statement or have them sent to your tax advisor or any other professional with whom you work. For more information, please contact your financial professional.
- You can view your account information online via our client account access website at: www.investor-connect.com. For further information, look to the shaded column on the far righthand side of this page titled, "Interested in going paperless?"
- Your cash and securities are protected. Your assets are protected by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). SIPC protection currently

- covers up to $500,000 per client (of which $250,000 may be cash). RBC Capital Markets, LLC (RBC CM) has purchased an additional policy that provides up to an additional $99.5 million per SIPC-qualified account (of which $900,000 may be cash) subject to a total maximum aggregate of $400 million for RBC CM. Neither SIPC protection nor protection in excess of that provided by SIPC covers a decline in the value of a customer's assets due to market loss. Additional information is available upon request or at www.sipc.org.
- Your statement is not intended to be used in preparing your tax return or forecasting what will be reported on your year-end tax information summary. Some securities—such as mutual funds or real estate investment trusts may reclassify distributions after year-end, possibly causing differences between the amounts listed on your statement and the amounts reported for tax purposes.
- Please contact your financial professional with any questions you may have about your account. Contact information is provided on the first page of your account statement.

Interested in going paperless?

RBC Clearing & Custody offers you the option to access your account information online and receive electronic versions* of:
